

Deadline Extended:
Submit your entry by September 11

Announcing Texas Impact's First Annual

Texas Interfaith Sermon Contest

Submit a 10-minute video of your sermon/homily/other “pulpit presentation” for a chance to win cash, have your entry showcased on YouTube and be part of the national interfaith conversation about health care in America.

Texas Impact’s Statewide Sermon Contest 2009 Topic: Health Justice

Health care is one of the hottest topics in the national media, and Congress is considering major changes to parts of the American health care system. Health is a priority concern for every faith tradition—as a focus of charity, a key mission area, and an issue of justice. Faith voices are important in the national policy conversation...now is your chance to make yours heard!

Two Categories: English Language and Spanish Language

Prizes! First place in each category receives $500. Second place in each category receives $100.

Timeframe: Submit your entry between June 23 and September 11. All qualifying entries will be posted on YouTube and winners will be announced on or before October 11, 2009.

Who’s Eligible? Anyone can enter who is considered qualified to preach in their faith tradition, including ordained clergy, lay preachers, elders and deacons, seminary students and others.

How Do I Submit My Entry? Send us a 10-minute YouTube-quality video of you delivering your sermon to a group—a congregation in pews, a religious education class, a men’s or women’s gathering...you get the picture.

Don’t Have a Videocamera? Texas Impact staff will be available to provide technical assistance if you need it, including helping you locate equipment and walking you through submitting your video.

To enter and find out more visit www.texasimpact.org/sermoncontest