

People Get Ready

Preparing to Help Your County Administer Elections

Texas get ready: We have big elections coming!

Spring 2022: Statewide Primaries
November 2022: Statewide General

In 2021, the Texas Legislature made major changes to Texas election laws. These laws could make it harder for some eligible Texans to vote, and they could make it harder or scarier for some Texans to volunteer to work the polls. But no matter what, the elections have to go forward.

In the 2020 General Election, a majority of the voting age population voted for the first time in Texas history. We can't afford to go backward. All the media attention and partisan messaging won't help.

It's going to take all hands on-deck to make sure all eligible voters in every Texas county can cast their ballots.

Challenges voters may face:

- confusion about what legislative provisions passed
- fear of making a mistake and getting in trouble
- fear of making a mistake and not being able to correct it
- lack of transportation
- lack of clarity about polling locations and times
- add your own ideas:

Challenges counties may face:

- difficulty recruiting volunteers
- difficulty recruiting polling locations
- difficulty getting volunteers to show up for training
- add your own ideas:

Elections in Texas (and other states) are administered at the county level, and in most cases depend heavily on volunteers for all aspects of preparing, administering, and concluding a successful election—even mission-critical activities are done by volunteers.

Every county does things a little differently. The only way to find out how things work in your county and how you can help, is to engage with your county election administrator and ask these three questions:

How can you get involved?

What is most needed?

Who can you partner with?

CONNECTING WITH THE SYSTEM

Who is your county election administrator?

Name _____ Website _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Point of contact _____

Physical address _____

Who are the county party chairs?

Name _____ Website _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Point of contact _____

Physical address _____

Good to know:

How many polling locations does the county have?

Is your county a countywide or precinct only county?

Is your administrator elected or appointed?

Ask these questions of your point of contact at the county and your party if applicable:

HOW CAN YOU GET INVOLVED?

How can you become a Deputy Voter Registrar?

- What are the deadlines and documentation required? _____
- How else can you help get folks registered to vote? _____
- Can your congregation hold a voter registration drive? _____
- Can the county help you with supplies? _____

How can you serve as an election judge?

- What are the requirements? _____
- Can you do partial days or some early voting days but not others? _____
- How will your polling location be assigned? _____
- Can you work with a friend? _____
- What training is required and when is it offered? _____
- Is there online training? _____

How can you be part of the tabulation process, including Central Count; the Early Voting Ballot Board; and the Signature Verification Committee?

- What are the requirements? _____
- What is the time commitment? _____

How can you serve as a poll watcher or nonpartisan election observer? _____

POLL WORKER ROLES

The polling place “core team” consists of four members:

- Election Judge
- Alternate Judge
- Clerk #1
- Clerk #2

Without these four volunteers, a polling location cannot operate.

The Election Judge is the team leader. The Alternate Judge must be from the other party—so if the Election Judge is a Democrat, the Alternate Judge must be a Republican. The Election Judge may be invited to recruit their Clerks, depending on the county’s practices.

HOW CAN YOU HELP WHERE HELP IS NEEDED MOST?

What kind of help does the county need to turn out registered voters for the election?

- Are there signs or posters you could display at your congregation or other location? _____
- Is there a phone bank you can help with? _____
- Is there a social media team you can volunteer with? _____

What kind of help is needed before the election?

Many counties will use temporary employees for these tasks—but it never hurts to ask!

- Do they need volunteers to deliver equipment or supplies? _____
- Do they need people to count out supplies or make packets? _____
- Do they need people to call other volunteers? _____

What help is needed on election day besides election judges?

- Do they need people to answer phones? _____
- Do they need people to deliver equipment or other items? _____
- Do they need people to post information on social media? _____

What help is needed after the election?

- Do they need volunteers to help put things away for the next election? _____
- Do they need people to go collect equipment, signs, or other things? _____
- Do they need people to help with “ballot cure” _____

RECRUITING ELECTION JUDGES

County election officials are unanimous: they need help recruiting election judges! Whether you can serve as a judge or not, you can help ensure there are enough volunteers to staff ALL the county’s polling places through Early Voting and on Election Day.

Does the county have an election judge recruitment plan?

- If so, ask if they can give you materials to help with recruitment.
- If not, can you help them create flyers or other recruitment tools?

Is there a social media campaign for recruitment?

- If so, could you amplify it?
- If not, can you help get one started?

Texas Impact advances public policies that reflect the common social statements of mainstream faith traditions. We guide individuals and faith organizations through the often-turbulent waters of politics and faith to bring their collective witness and wisdom into the processes of democracy.

When interfaith leaders launched Texas Impact nearly 50 years ago, American mainstream faith communities were on the front lines of advocating for civil rights, economic justice, and peace for all people. While some of the specific issues have changed over the decades, the faith communities' call for justice, freedom, and peace is as strong today as it was in 1973.

Many people worry that today's believers are disengaged from the public square, or that the only prophetic voices are coming from extremists. We disagree. Our members are 4 times as likely to vote as other Texans...and they are evenly split between Republicans and Democrats.

Every generation of Americans and Texans must reaffirm the values of religious freedom, common good, and responsibility to the future. We believe diversity makes Texas stronger, and community makes us better.
