

★ Beyond Barriers: Faithful Action for Migrant Justice

About the Curriculum

Beyond Barriers is a four-to-six-week journey designed to inspire reflection, education, and action for migrant justice. Rooted in faith and shared moral values, this curriculum equips individuals and communities to address the barriers migrants face—not only physical ones like borders and fences but systemic ones like access to healthcare, employment, and opportunity, as well as the barriers that we face within ourselves like fear, anger, and hopelessness. This program offers participants a meaningful way to connect their values to advocacy.

Why This Matters

Migrant justice is not just a political issue—it is a moral and spiritual imperative. Across faith traditions, we are called to love our neighbors, welcome the stranger, and seek justice for the oppressed. This curriculum invites participants to engage deeply with these sacred values, moving beyond fear and division to live out the principles of justice and hospitality. By exploring the intersections of faith, justice, and action, Beyond Barriers equips individuals and communities to stand in solidarity with migrant neighbors and build bridges of compassion and advocacy.

What You'll Learn

- The realities of immigration systems and border policies in Texas.
- How faith traditions and moral frameworks call us to action.
- Practical advocacy skills, including engaging elected officials.
- Ways to take action in your community to support immigrant justice.

★ Curriculum Highlights

Week 0 (Optional): Introduction and Foundation – Setting the stage for learning and action.

Weeks 1–4: From understanding immigration systems to mastering advocacy tools.

Weeks 5 & 6: Community action projects to implement real change.

Flexible and Inclusive

This curriculum is adaptable for use over four weeks, six weeks, or in any season of reflection and renewal. While it's particularly suited for Lent in Christian contexts, it is designed to resonate across traditions and settings. Action opportunities can be timed to extend beyond the curriculum, creating long-term impact.
